AWAITING CANTON'S REPLY.

STRIKE COMMITTEE DEBATE.

The authorities in Hongkong are still awaiting a reply from the Canton Government before despatching their delegates to Canton to discuss the settlement of the strike and boycott.

It will be recalled that the Hongkong Government on Thursday last notified the appointment of its delegates, and the communiqué then issued stated that the date on which the Hongkong delegation would proceed to Canton would be fixed as soon as a reply had been received from the Canton Government to the letter notifying the appointment of the Colony's delegates.

NO CHANGE.

On enquiry this morning, we are informed that the position remains unchanged, as no reply had yet been received from Canton. The reports current, to the effect that the Hongkong delegates had left, were therefore incorrect.

According to reports from Chinese sources, the Strike Committee in Canton has held a meeting for the express purpose of discussing the terms of the settlement, but after a heated discussion, the gathering broke up without any result being reached.

TWO CAMPS.

Exactly what transpired at the meeting has not been disclosed, as publication of a report of the gathering has been prevented, but it is stated that the meeting soon found itself divided into two camps—one favouring an immediate settlement without concessions, and the other insisting on various conditions, including restoration of former employment and compensation for the period of the strike.

Those favouring an immediate settlement were said to be the stronger numerically, but their opponents are stated to be in a position to exercise more power and influence.

Eventually, the issue was put to the vote, and after some dissatisfaction had been expressed at the result, it is said that a poll was demanded, but that this was resisted by the minority.

EXTREMISTS' EFFORTS.

Some disorder is reported to have followed, and eventually the meeting is stated to have broken up without any definite decision being reached.

The opinion is expressed in Canton that the "Die-Hards," although in a minority at the meeting, are under the influence of the more extreme elements, and that these latter are endeavouring to dominate the situation at all costs.

SESSIONS CASES.

FIVE ROBBERS SENTENCED.

At the Criminal Sessions, yesterday, the two men charged with robbery in the house of an old hawker at Nam Hung Village, in the New Territories, were each sentenced to serve five years' imprisonment with hard labour.

In the case in which three men were charged with armed robbery in a shop on the Praya West, on May 5th, two of the accused were sentenced to seven years' imprisonment with hard labour, and twelve strokes of the "cat"; the third prisoner to five years' and twelve strokes; while the first prisoner, against whom there was another indictment of possession of arms, was sentenced to an additional year's imprisonment with hard labour.

Both cases were heard before Mr. Justice Wood.

At the new low prices, can there be any rival in value to the ESSEX? Although its amazing low price is an undoubted attraction in making ESSEX, the leading supplier of overalls is the quality, brilliant performance, reliability, fine appearance and riding ease that remains when the price paid is forgotten. Dependable in all respects, advantages in constantly improving value & she buys because of volume economy in purchase of materials, manufacturing savings and low cost of distribution. The new low price places within reach of all qualities heretofore exclusive to far costlier cuts.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK IN KOWLOON.

PARTICULARLY NOTICEABLE AT Y.M.C.A.

EARLY MORN EXPERIENCE.

Residents of Kowloon state that an earthquake shock of considerable force was felt on the peninsula in the early hours of this morning. The shock was particularly noticeable at the Y.M.C.A.

One resident of the Y.M.C.A. states that he got up early in the morning to shut a bathroom door, which was banging, and he had just got back to bed, at about four o'clock, when he felt a distinct earthquake shock—so much so that his bed began to move. Another occupant of the premises states that the shock "shook the whole building."

Apparently only one shock was felt, but this was so pronounced as to arouse distinctly uncomfortable feelings.

On enquiry at the Royal Observatory, we were informed that early this morning a slight shock was registered, but this would appear to have originated some thousands of miles away.

There was no local shock recorded at the Observatory, and the view was expressed that the distant shock would not have been felt in Kowloon.

It is, however, somewhat strange that two residents of the Y.M.C.A. building, living in entirely different parts of the premises, are emphatic in stating that they felt a shock.

Sgt. Wheelan explained that that was before Dr. Sun Yat-sen went to Canton:

NOT USED IN CANTON.

Continuing, witness said that coins were not now used in Canton, but they were dealt with in King Chau, and Ngai Hau. They were not legal currency in Hong Kong. His firm would not accept them, but some firms might, at a lower rate.

In reply to Sgt. Wheelan, witness said they were not mentioned in an exchange list that was handed to him, but there were coins similar that had a higher value. Those were current in Canton.

Major Willson:—Are these coins likely to deceive any one for coins current in Canton?

Witness:—I think people would be able to see it.

Examined by Mr. Strellett, witness said he had been in the business for seventeen years and at no time had they taken such coins.

Mr. Strellett:—During the time Chan Kwing-min was in control of Canton there were no other coins then being used as 20-cent pieces.

Witness:—They were minted before he came to Canton.

Mr. Strellett:—They were not used in Canton.

Witness:—They were not used.

Mr. Strellett:—Were they known here during that time because many of his soldiers came with these coins, but they were not accepted.

Mr. Strellett:—By whom?

Witness:—I did not accept them because of the low percentage of silver.

Mr. Strellett:—We can assume that the soldiers used them in Kwangtung?

Witness:—I cannot say.

In reply to other questions, witness said he had seen counterfeits of the coins. Mr. Strellett suggested that the coins in Court were genuine when compared with the counterfeits he had seen.

CURRENT V. COUNTERFEIT.

Relying to the Magistrate, Mr. Strellett said he could bring some old coins, say of the time of Napoleon, but although they would not be current, no-one would say they were counterfeit. That was a point he would submit in due course.

Witness was handed a marked coin, and, after comparing it with an alleged counterfeit one, he said it had the quality of a Cheung Chau piece, but was a Kwangtung coin.

The case was then remanded for a week, bail being allowed in the sum of $100 each.

COIN DISPUTE.

INTERESTING POINT RAISED.

CHAN KWING-MING ISSUES.

Twenty-cent pieces said to have been minted at Cheung Chow, near Swatow, were the subjects of charges against four Chinese before Major C. Willson, at the Central Magistracy this morning. A Chinese doctor and a coolie were charged with having in their possession 4,000 pieces of counterfeit coin; a shop keeper with having 395 pieces; and an accountant with having 1,024 pieces.

Sgt. Wheelan was in charge of the case for the police, and Mr. D. L. Strellett appeared for three of the defendants.

Expert evidence was given, by a Chinese accountant at the Cheung Kee money-changers, 114, Queen's Road Central, who said the coins had been minted in the time of General Chan Kwing-ming at Cheung Chow, near Swatow.

Sgt. Wheelan explained that that was before Dr. Sun Yat-sen went to Canton:

TRADE UNION LEADERS KEPT OUT.

QUESTIONS IN PARLIAMENT.

London, June 21.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Arthur Henderson asked for an explanation of the refusal to admit M. Oudegeest, Secretary of the International Federation of Trade Unions, and M. Fimmen, Secretary of the International Transport Workers' Federation, who were desirous of attending the International Labour Conference on Education in London.

Sir William Joynson Hicks replied that during the recent illegal strike information reached him that M. Oudegeest and M. Fimmen were arranging to hold up British ships in foreign ports.

Mr. Henderson asked whether this was a new form of reprisal against bona fide trade unionists carrying out their duty.

Sir William Joynson Hicks replied that he must adhere to his decision, unless Mr. Henderson had information contrary to his.

FUTILE PROTEST.

London, June 21.

In the House of Commons, after the introduction of the Coal Mines Bills, Mr. Henderson asked leave to move the adjournment to call attention to the action of the Home Secretary in curtailing freedom of discussion on international questions.

The Speaker refused to put the motion, declaring that it was impossible for the Home Secretary to differentiate the importance of the two gentlemen mentioned from others under the Aliens Restrictions Act.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald pressed the point, emphasising the importance of the Congress.

The Speaker adhered to his ruling, and the matter dropped.

CHINESE WAR CLOUDS.

KWANGTUNG AND KIANGSI.

A report received in Canton from the front states that Lai Sa-wong, who formerly held the position of second in command of the Yunnan forces which were sent against Lung Chai-kwong, the ex-Tutu of Kwangtung, and who has been in the service of Kiangsi for the past three years, has been found to be in collusion with the Revolutionary Army, and that Tang Yu-derk, the Tuan, has ordered Yung Yu-hin to disarm his forces. In consequence, the units came to a clash, in which Lai Sa-wong was defeated and retreated to the Kiangsi-Kwangtung boundary line.

It is reported that the Canton Government may make use of Lai Sa-wong by supplying him with arms, ammunition and money to turn against Tang Yu-derk, thereby opening the way for the Revolutionary Army to invade Kiangsi. This seems a likely move in view of the fact that Lum Fon and Lai Che-lok are recruiting and re-enlisting their former troops.

It is also reported that since the arrival of reinforcements from Hupeh at Changsha, there have been no engagements, waiting for further reinforcements.

Onwards to Kanze, the party had traversed very difficult country, the party found themselves in country entirely populated by Tibetans, though nominally under Chinese control. The road varied between 12 and 16 inches in width, and the slightest slip would have meant hurtling down a steep declivity into the upper reaches of the Yangtze. The Mekong river was crossed by means of rope bridges, the passenger being trussed up with a leather thong and whirled at great pace across a foaming river over bamboo rope.

Refused permission by the Tibetan authorities to travel inside the Tuan frontier, they followed the old Chinese route, and reached Batang 55 days after leaving Yunnanfu.

THE FRANCONIA NOT COMING TO HONGKONG.

Of the six cruising steamers which visited Hongkong this year, at least one, the s.s. Franconia, will not repeat the visit next year. This is in the way of disappointment to many, but this magnificent liner will encircle the globe with her quota of eager sightseers over a route which is as interesting as it is unique.

The s.s. Franconia will leave New York on January 12th, 1927, and travelling southward via Kingston, will proceed to Los Angeles and Honolulu via the Panama Canal. From Honolulu the "new route" commences, Samoa and Fiji being visited en route to New Zealand. After a visit has been paid to Auckland and the famous Rotorua thermal district, Wellington and environs, Hobart, the capital of Tasmania, is seen before proceeding to Australia, Melbourne and Sydney have been selected as the two cities likely to interest the tourists, most and motor tours of the famous Blue Mountains and Jenolan Caves are included. Leaving Sydney the s.s. Franconia will sail for the Straits Settlements and Ceylon via British New Guinea and Java. These countries have attracted tourists for many years and a cruise around-the-world would be incomplete were these not included. From Colombo to South Africa via Mombasa, Zanzibar and Portuguese East Africa, the traveller is afforded the interesting experience of observing the success of British colonization in Africa and, indeed, it is worthy of remark, that of the twenty-one countries visited on this cruise, eleven are under the British flag and the cruise could aptly be described as a tour of British colonial possessions in the Eastern Hemisphere for, with the exception of India, Burmah and the innumerable groups of islands acknowledging allegiance to the British Crown, the majority of our overseas possessions are visited.

The cruise is due to arrive back in New York on June 2nd, and four and a half months will have been spent in visiting the most interesting countries of the world, on a steamer which has long shown herself to be one of the most popular of the many cruise liners engaged in this type of travel, under the auspices of Messrs. Thos. Cook and Son whose name is synonymous with travel de luxe.

CHINESE IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Considerable stir has been caused in the Philippines by the decision of the United States Supreme Court that what is known as the Chinese book-keeping law is illegal. Chinese business men resident in the islands are extremely gratified at the decision, but, on the other hand, the Government apparently sees that the result is likely to mean a heavy loss in revenue unless a new law can be devised which will overcome the objections raised by the Supreme Court. The Governor General is of the opinion that such a law can be framed, and it will be interesting to watch future developments on this highly important subject.

The law now declared illegal arises out of the multiplicity of languages spoken and used in business transactions in the island. It was to the effect that commercial books could be kept in no other language than English, Spanish or a native Filipino dialect. The Supreme Court held it to be primarily directed against Chinese merchants, and the Court considers it invalid because it deprives Chinese people, settled as they are with long-established and extensive business, of their liberty and property without due process of law, and denies them equal protection of the laws. The point of unconstitutionality is based on the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution, which provides that no person shall be "deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law." It is thus clearly held that Chinese in the Philippines are entitled to full protection of the laws of the land, presuming, of course, that they are legally resident. Commenting on the position of Chinese in the islands, a Manila paper says there is a natural tendency towards classing them, collectively and individually, as aliens because they are not of an indigenous stock, but it is pointed out that most of those now in business in the islands were born in the Philippines, and that many are the sons of sons of native-born residents. Moreover, they speak and write a language which for centuries has been spoken by a larger number of people than have many of the Filipino dialects. And denial of the right to keep commercial accounts in that language is held and rightly so, it would seem—to be class legislation.

Although the decision may have unfortunate financial results to the Government, it was obviously not considered by the Supreme Court from that standpoint. The ruling was the result of considering the Act in relation to the legal status of the people of the island, Chinese included. At the same time, the Newspaper Bulletin holds that the Chinese as a class have not been paying their fair share of the Sales Tax, and although this is partly due to unfitness of the tax to the peculiar conditions prevailing in the islands, there are said to be other fundamental reasons. The very fact that the Chinese can do, says this paper, to show appreciation of the Supreme Court's decision, would be the creation of a sentiment among themselves for carrying their share of the burden.

Praise and Blame.

In the latest Home newspapers coming to hand we are favoured with the reasoned comment of the writers for the reputable weekly journals, and there is a solid acknowledgement of the fact that the Premier, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, came out of the general strike as the most universally popular Prime Minister in British History. There are differences of opinion as to whether he and his colleagues really deserved their popularity, for their political opponents argue that it was the splendid conduct of the people themselves which made the satisfactory ending of the general strike inevitable and that the Premier and the members of the Cabinet were made the inevitable focussing points of all the relief and gratitude felt throughout the country that the threat of civil disruption had passed away. One also notices that even in staunch anti-Conservative organs there is a growing dissatisfaction with the adamantine attitude of the miners and that the miners are losing a great deal of the sympathy which they formerly enjoyed. At the outset they had good cause to refuse the owners' original terms, but they have so consistently banged the door in the face of every other offer (no matter from what source) that they are openly being accused of disastrous obstinacy. Even the Liberal organ The Nation, which is invariably in support of trade union action, has the following in its latest number:—"The miners are renowned among the working class for the peculiar obstinacy and endurance which enables them to fight a demonstrably hopeless battle for weeks and months without losing heart. They are proud of these qualities; and perhaps it is natural that these should be the chief qualities reflected in their leadership and that Mr. Herbert Smith, for example, whose sole equipment is obstinacy, and whose one strategic idea is to refuse any proposal until the other party is no longer willing to offer it, should possess their entire confidence. But do the miners never reflect on the sorry outcome of these methods? Governments have been criticized for the present plight of the coal industry, and Governments deserve criticism. The mine-owners have been criticized, and indeed the mine-owners seem almost past praying for. But might not the Miners' Federation turn the searchlight of criticism with some advantage on themselves? Not once, but time and again, during these post-war years they have re-enacted the old fable of the Sibylline books. They refused to sign the Sankey Report, and thus deprived it of the authority of a Majority Report. A few months later they were pressing for it and could not get it. They refused to accept the recent Coal Commission, and the Government seems now to have withdrawn its offer to nationalise royalties. They rejected the Samuel Memorandum, and they will probably end up with something worse than the terms offered by Mr. Baldwin. Is it not clear to them yet that obstinacy is not enough?"

Passengers departing yesterday by s.s. President McKinley for the north and Seattle, included Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Graybill, Miss Susan and Master Harry Graybill and Mr. A. Brostot.

VOLUBLE MOTORIST.

CAUSES TROUBLE TO POLICE.

Attributing difficulties with his car to a defect in the starting gear, a Chinese to-day at the Central Police Court told Mr. R. E. Lindsell that he had to "crank up like the devil" to make the engine start.

The man was charged with driving a car whilst under the influence of drink, and this somewhat emphatic statement was made in reply to evidence by Sergeant D. Loughlin that he placed the car in gear and, moving forward, stopped right in the middle of the road at West Point, "engine and all."

It was also stated that as Sergeant Loughlin came forward to point out the offence, the defendant waved his hands and rejoined "All right No. 142."

It was the witness' conviction, from this and other indications, that the defendant was under the influence of liquor.

Inspector P. Grant said that the defendant kept everybody awake the whole night at the Police Station, cursing and shouting out continuously the number of the witness; and eventually he had to be moved from one cell to another.

In reply to the Magistrate, the defendant, who had hitherto completely ignored the interpretation facilities provided by the Court and conducted his own case in picturesque English, contended that the car was not in gear, and it moved down the slope of its own weight.

His Worship:—If the car was not in gear, the engine would have stopped.

Defendant:—All right, my Lord, guilty.

Inspector Grant stated that, if he might say so, the defendant was not yet sober. The police knew very little of the defendant beyond the information imparted that he was an engineer.

A conviction was recorded, and the defendant was fined $25.

KOWLOON MOTORISTS.

CASES AT THE POLICE COURT.

A number of European motorists appeared before Mr. J. H. B. Nihill, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, charged with various breaches of the traffic regulations.

Mr. E. A. Brodie was charged with failing to keep to the left side of Salisbury Road, at the Star Ferry.

The defendant pleaded that he had followed the route taken by the buses and did not know he was violating the regulations as he seldom drove his car in Kowloon.

His Worship:—There are no notices up; are there?

Acting Sub-Inspector Nicholl:—There is one on the standard warning drivers to "Keep to the left." It is very decaying to one who does not drive much in Kowloon.

OTHER CASES.

A fine of $5 was imposed on Mr. W. R. Greenhalgh, who was charged with failing to produce his licence when requested by a police officer.

Mr. C. H. Dodson and Mr. E. R. Price were both arraigned on charges of causing an obstruction by leaving their cycles on the pavement in Nathan Road. The former, whose machine was left on the pavement for a quarter of an hour, was fined $2.

Mr. Price was mulcted in a fine of $3, it being stated that his cycle was left unattended for 45 minutes.

Miss E. Wong, who was summoned for driving along Chatham Road at 25 miles an hour, was fined $10.

The Very Idea!

A man dashed into the police station at half-past two, on the morning of Damocles which never fails to claim its victim or two within the year.

"My wife!" he gasped. "I want you to find my wife! Been missing since eight this evening. Oh, find her for me!"

"Particulars?" asked a sergeant. "Height?"

"I don't know."

"Do you know how she was dressed?"

"No; but she took the dog with her."

"Brindle bull-terrier, weight fifty-three pounds, four dark blotches on his body, shading from grey into white. Three white legs, and right front leg brindled, all but the toes. A small nick in his left ear."

"That'll do!" gasped the sergeant. "We'll find the dog!"

When people ask a question, course, an answer should come back. For instance, in a riddle, you can find a good wise crack. But someone, in a song one time, with this one came to bat: "Has Anyone Seen Kelly?" No-one ever answered that.

MOTOR SMASH SEQUEL.

INJURED PASSENGERS IN COURT.

A recent serious motor smash, in which four Chinese passengers were seriously injured when their car ran into a wall at North Point, near the Electric Company premises, had a sequel at the Central Police Court this morning, in the charging of the driver with negligent driving and with using the car, which was privately owned, for public hire.

The case was heard before Major C. Willson, and the witnesses included the injured passengers, who appeared with their heads still wrapped in bandages.

Inspector Alexander said the accident occurred on the 14th instant, as the car was proceeding towards Shaukiwan with a full load of passengers, which the defendant had picked up outside the Sincere Company, for a fare of $2.

Notwithstanding that Whitfield was a controlled area and cars had to proceed along at a very moderate speed, the car was being rushed through the district at an admitted speed of 20 miles, an hour, and it went without saying that this speed was very much exceeded when it attempted to overtake and pass a heavy lorry. The driver of the lorry extended his hand to the right as an indication of his change of direction, at the crucial moment, and, in endeavouring to avoid a collision which appeared to be inevitable, the defendant swerved his car and ran head on into a wall. The car was completely smashed and only one or two of its seven passengers escaped with a severe shock.

Inspector Alexander further stated that a civil action for damages against the owner of the car might be taken when the owner had been found.

The defendant admitted to having driven the car at a reckless speed, and he was convicted. On the charge of negligent driving he was fined $50 and on the second count, of using a private car for public hire, a fine of $25 was further imposed.

CHINA'S OBLIGATIONS.

QUESTIONS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS.

London, June 21.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Foot Mitchell asked the Government to consider the desirability of taking further action, international or otherwise, to enforce the observance by China of her obligations and undertakings.

Sir Austin Chamberlain replied referring to his answer on June 14, and added that he was still in close consultation with the Minister at Peking as regards measures to meet the attack on the Salt Administration at Tientsin. Every effort was being made to investigate the recent murders of Britishers in order to ascertain responsibility.

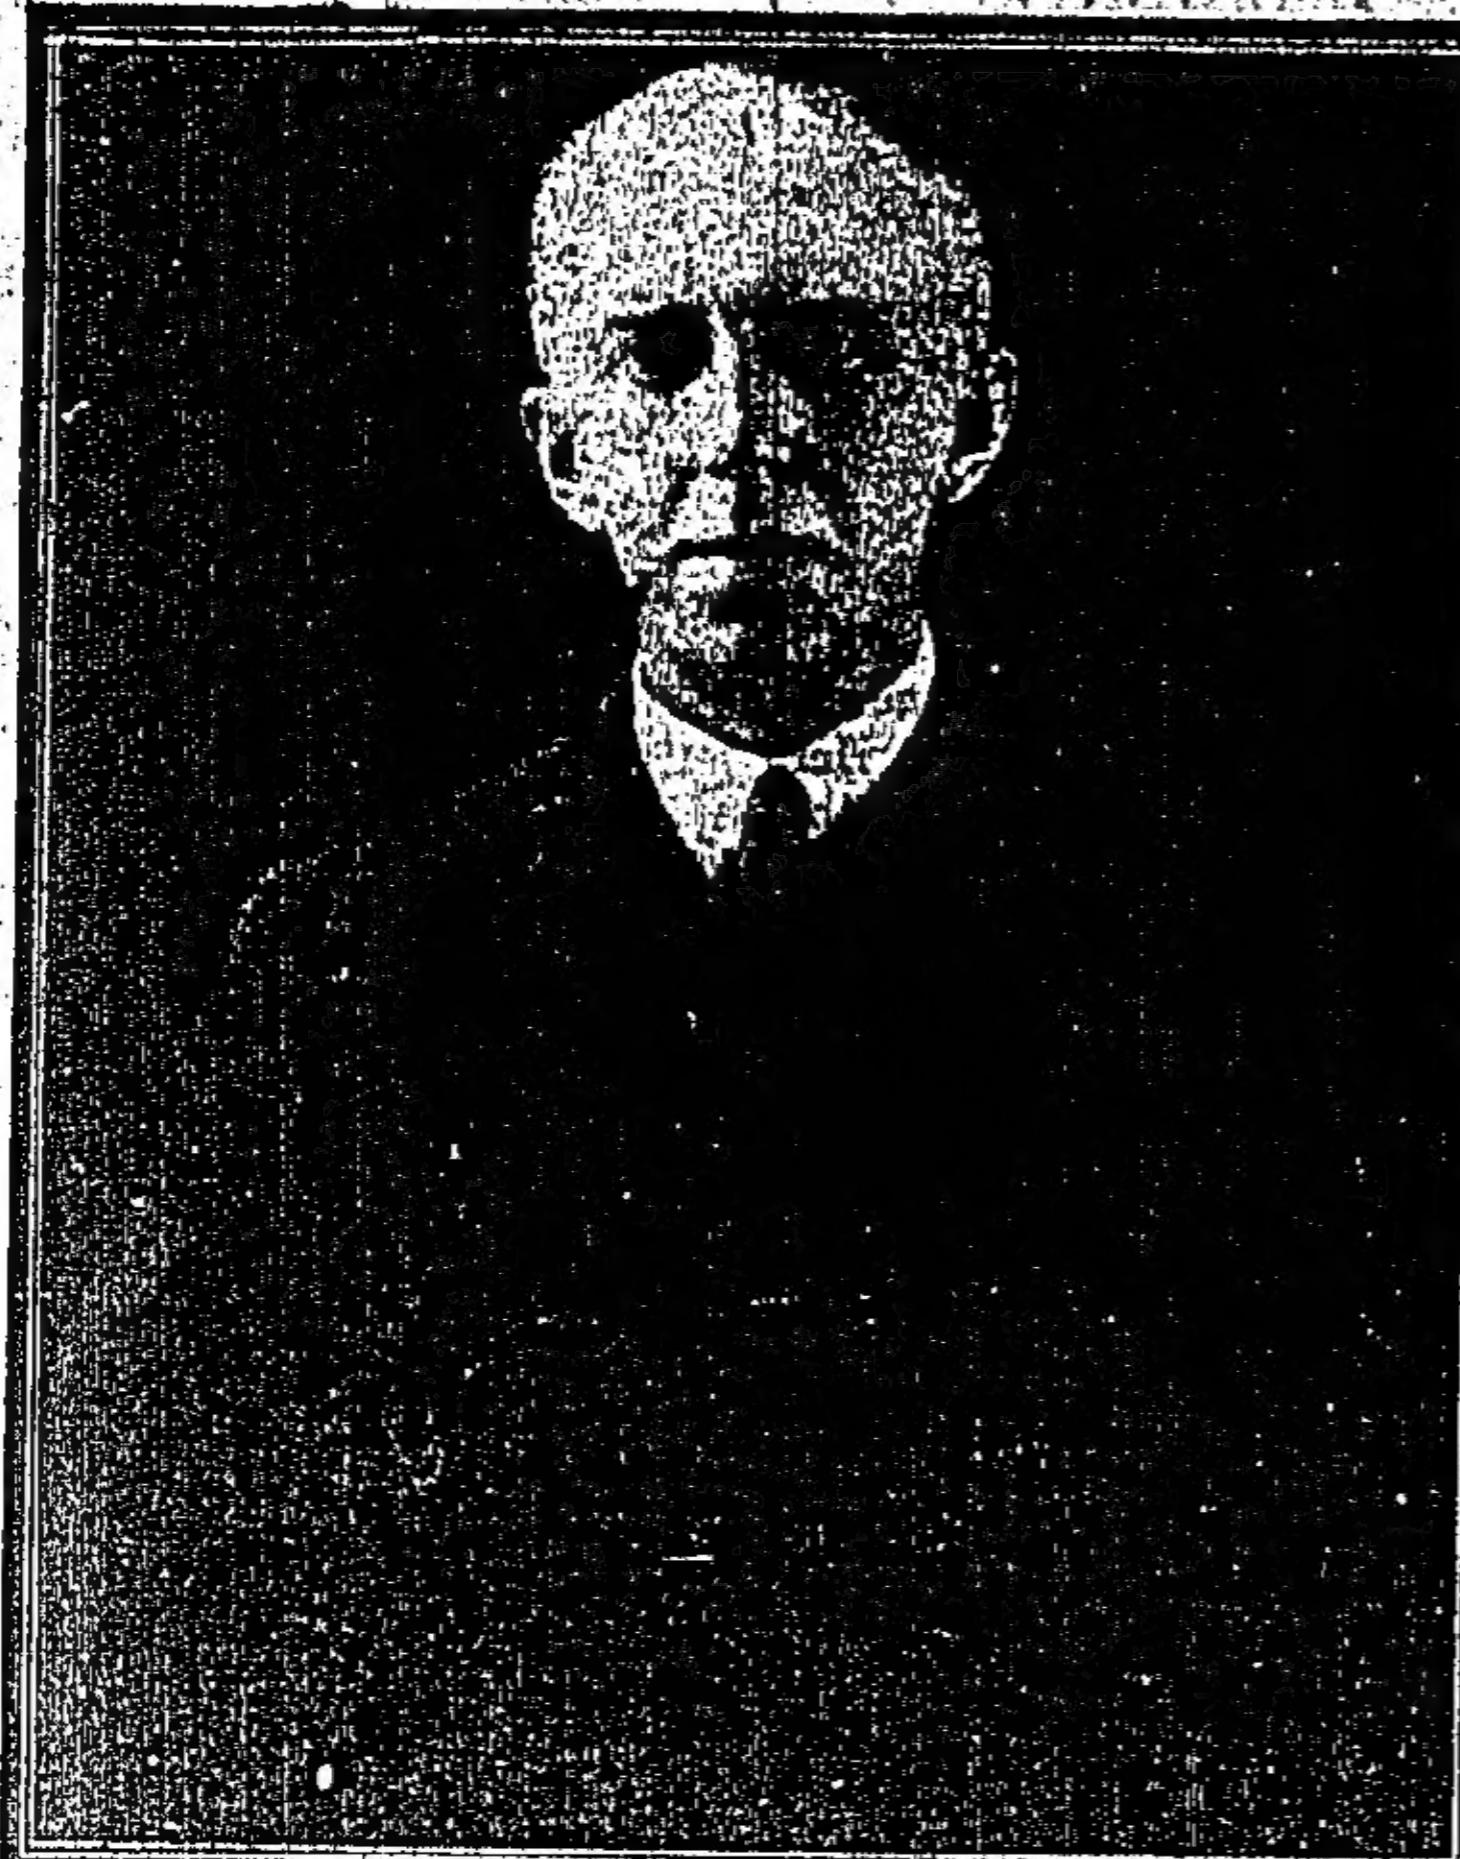

Asked whether he would suspend the Tariff negotiations until Treaty rights were respected, Sir Austin Chamberlain said the Tariff negotiations were conducted by several Powers and it was most desirable, if possible, for all Powers to act in harmony. Reuter.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S PREDICTION.

Washington, June 21.—Speaking at the half-yearly budget meeting of the Government, President Coolidge advocated a programme of constructive economy in Government expenditure, by means, inter alia, of the gradual reduction in the number of Government employees by refraining from replacing those dropping out. He predicted that the current fiscal year would close with a surplus, of $185,000,000, and the following year with a surplus of $20,000,000. He declined to promise a further reduction in taxes on the ground that it would be unfortunate to raise such hopes until the state of the Government's finances justified it. CUSTOMS SURPRISE AT VICTORIA STATION.

When Mr. Walter Tyndale, a British artist who lives in Venice, reached Victoria Station from the Continent, the Customs authorities demanded a deposit of £6 before they would pass a bag containing some water-colours he intends to exhibit in London.

In a letter to Captain T. J. O'Connor, M.P., Mr. Tyndale says the officials appear to have taken action under the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876, and "it is possible that in the circumstances I am not the importer of goods within the meaning of the Act."

The Customs authorities, writing to the artist, note that the pictures were imported as part of his personal luggage, and "though this explanation in no way affects the legal position, they are prepared to treat the offence leniently, and have accordingly directed that £3 of the deposit of £6 is to be returned."

Captain O'Connor intends to ask the Secretary to the Treasury to issue instructions that the fine be refunded, and that no such fine shall be imposed in future.

BOGUS HERO ARRESTED.

Before the Rochester magistrate Robert Farrington, aged twenty-nine, was charged with stealing the dinghy Diana, the property of Mr. Harry Griffiths, of Gillingham, clerk to the Middlesex County Council. Farrington had made himself famous by a story of having set out in fog at midnight and manoeuvred four hours single-handed in an open boat to take food to the starving crew of the Norwegian schooner, Zaro Anne, from Copenhagen to Chatham, stranded on the Goodwins, of having fulfilled his mission and sailed back to Deal. While Farrington was telling his tale, Mr. Griffiths discovered that his dinghy was missing.

The Chief Constable informed the bench that to illustrate Farrington's tall story a photograph had appeared in some London papers. The police traced the man to Queenborough, and when arrested he confessed that his whole story was "bunkum." When charged and cautioned, he replied, "The charge is correct."

The accused, who adopted a very unconcerned attitude in the dock, was remanded for a week.

The suggestion that a Stanley woman committed suicide owing to her husband's treatment was made at the Central Magistracy yesterday when Mr. R. E. Lindsell conducted an inquiry into the woman's death.

The woman was a Chinese, aged about 25, and it was stated that her husband and daughter had since disappeared and could not be found. Death was caused by the woman drinking a herb brew and her husband later administered kid's blood as an antidote.

Dr. Craig, acting Medical Officer in charge of mortuaries, said he made a post mortem of the body on May 24. The organs were congested and this was a sign of possible poisoning. Certain organs were sent for analysis.

Mr. E. R. Dovey, the Government analyst, said he had examined the organs sent to him. In a preliminary examination he detected the presence of an alkaloid and found traces of gelsemium elegans. This was a Chinese drug and recognised herb. A brew from the leaves of it would probably cause death.

No Foul-Play Suspected.

He was also handed a broken bowl and some Chinese herbs. A leaf of the herb was adhering to a piece of the bowl, and he identified it as gelsemium elegans. The other herbs were also the same.

The specimens were later sent to the Botanical and Forestry department and the results of his examination were confirmed.

Mr. Lindsell said the statements handed to him showed that the husband had disappeared for the time being. The daughter, whose evidence was material, had also disappeared. The police did not suspect foul play, but it appeared from the statements supplied to him, that the husband had not treated his wife at all well.

A Chinese witness was called who said he had been employed as a coolie by the husband. The man was engaged in building work and was a good master. Witness knew nothing about his private affairs as he lived a considerable distance away from him in Stanley.

Domestic Quarrels.

Witness went to the husband's house on May 23 after he had called for him. He saw the wife lying on a bed in the cubicle, and witness was shown two leaves but did not know what they were.

Cheung Sze, the husband went out for a kid, and collected some of its blood. The blood was poured into the woman's mouth from a bowl and she swallowed a little. Witness had not seen blood used before. The woman was still showing signs of life at that time, but she was unable to speak.

A Chinese detective said the husband told him that his wife had taken some "ho min tang". Witness knew the herb as a poisonous plants. The husband and wife had always been quarrelling and after the woman's death he learned that they had quarrelled on May 23. He understood from neighbours that the two had not been on very good terms.

Evidence was also given that they had a fight on May 22 and a witness said he thought this was the cause of the woman committing suicide. The daughter disappeared on June 12, but the husband said he would go to court to hear the case. Neither of them had appeared however, and on Sunday their house at Stanley was locked up.

Disappearance Due To Fright.

Sergeant Langley, formerly in charge of Stanley police station said he understood the daughter had gone to the country. He thought the disappearance of the husband and daughter was merely a case of fright as villagers were nervous people.

The husband had no real business interests in Stanley, and witness thought it was quite likely he would return. When he examined the woman's body he found no signs of violence, and had no reason to suspect foul play.

He had been unable to get neighbours to come to court and speak of the relations between man and wife.

Mr. Lindsell adjourned the inquiry sine die, adding that the police officer now in charge at Stanley should call the man to court to give evidence as soon as he returned.

"SOLAR STAR" AGROUND.SLIGHT DAMAGE TO NEW FERRY BOAT.

There was much speculation among a large crowd of pedestrians who had gathered on the Praya yesterday evening, as to what had occurred to the new ferry Solar Star, which was lying against the Praya wall alongside the west of the "Star" Ferry Pier, with the appearance of having run aground whilst manoeuvring to come alongside the wharf.

Enquiries elicited the information that when approaching the pier the engineer had failed to respond in time to the telegraphic signals of the coxswain, and the vessel collided with the Praya.

The occurrence created great excitement among the numerous passengers, who were forced to disembark from the bow of the ferry on to Connaught Road, the boat having grounded in the shallow water. The impact caused very slight damage to the fender of the bow, but inconvenient passengers travelling to and from Kowloon. With the Solar Star out of commission, a curtailed service was run for half an hour, when an additional ferry was put on.

Immediately after the accident a tow-boat was summoned, and the "Kowloon", from the Gowdown Company, arrived shortly after 6.30 p.m. The tug towed the ferry off without any further trouble, the Solar Star then being taken back in tow by the Evening Star to the Company's wharf for minor repairs.

It is not thought that any extensive overhaul will be necessary, and the ferry will probably be on the service again this evening, or to-morrow morning.

ANOTHER CHENGTU INCIDENT.AMERICAN LADY BRUTALLY ATTACKED.

Peking, June 21.

The British Consul at Chengtu reports that Miss Manly, an American, on June 8 was dragged from her barge by an unarmed Chinese, who apparently attempted to strangle her. She struggled, and was finally rescued by bystanders after being slightly injured. Her assailant was handed over to the Police.

As the result of the Consul's representations, the authorities have issued a proclamation to the effect that any Chinese found molesting foreigners in any way will be arrested and shot on the spot. The military police are taking precautions.—Reuters.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

LEARNING GOLF.

HELPFUL HINTS BY FAMOUS PLAYERS.

THE VARDON GRIP.

A bad grip is almost as common in golf as a faulty stance, says Walter Hagen, the American champion, in the course of the following article, which we publish by special arrangement with the Golfers' Magazine, Chicago.

THE VARDON GRIP.

By Walter Hagen.

One of the first things to consider in golf is the grip, as few rarely start with the grip that they finally adopt later on. A bad grip is about as common in golf as a faulty stance.

There are several recognized grips used by well-known players. Among pros I find that the overlapping, commonly known as the Vardon grip, is in most favour. I am sure it is the most satisfactory.

The story is told about a very famous Scotch player who had hands much too large and in order to make them appear and feel less awkward he conceived the idea of grasping the club in his left hand and taking hold of it with but three fingers and the thumb of the right, the little finger of the right fitting snugly over the forefinger of the left. For his purpose it made an ideal grip, but he was not permitted to hide his invention.

Noticing the queer manner of taking hold of the club, many pros tried it out and all with varying success until Vardon adopted it.

Learn Swing Before Playing.

The beginner should never go near a golf course until he has learned some idea of how to hit a ball. Getting the proper swing before approaching golf grounds will save a lot. Beginners should remember that first-class players hate to waste time playing with a duffer who only retards their progress. Learning the game while playing in a match is no way to get any headway. You are spoiling your own game and that of the good players.

There is another angle to the game, too. Beginners do congest a golf course. They can't play the game fast enough to hold their place and a great many of them do not know enough about golf etiquette to invite those behind to come through. As a result the course is held up.

Try and remember that you must keep close behind those ahead of you. The general rule in regard to this is to play when the players in front of you have had their second shot. If this is not enough one must wait until they are well out of range.

Useless Practice Swing.

Many amateurs make a practice swing before hitting the ball, but few, if any, of the pros do it. The practice swing is, of course, made in the way of preparation. One has certain things that he intends to do and to rehearse the swing beforehand. It is not a bad idea for the beginner, but I don't think it helps the star player a great deal.

Then there is the daisy clipper. Hitting at a daisy and knocking its head off is an ancient custom, probably invented at the same time or shortly after the golf club, if, indeed, there were any daisies at that time to grace the golf course.

Many a golfer before leaving the first tee can step nearby to a daisy patch and everlastingly knock the head off every one he aims at with neatness and precision, exhibiting a loose and relaxed swing and a perfect follow-through; then he can go back to the tee, stiffen up in his back swing, make an awkward lunge to the ball and half miss it.

Wonderful what a great change the effect of the little white ball has on us, compared to the daisy, or any other mark that we practice on.

[The fourteenth article of this series will be by Bob Cruikshank.]

MACARTNEY AGAIN.

AUSTRALIAN ALL-ROUNDER SCORES 160.

VISITORS ADD 250 RUNS.

London, June 21.

The Australian XI laid the foundation for an easy victory over Lancashire when in fine weather on an easy wicket at Manchester, they continued their innings, which on Saturday stood at 124 for 5 wickets, and added two hundred and fifty runs before the last wicket fell.

C. G. Macartney scored 160 by brilliant all round batting, adding 98 to his Saturday score. He was at the wickets for three hours and three quarters and hit fifteen 4's. Macdonald, the ex-Australian fast bowler, took three wickets at a cost of 115 runs. Watson took three for 66, and Cecil Parkin took three for 85.

The Lancashire team had scored 116 for the loss of five wickets when stumps were drawn, the scores then standing as follows:

Lancashire: 149 (Hallows 85)

Australia: 374.

The county team needs 110 runs to avoid the innings defeat-Reuter.

A COUNTY RESULT.

Low Scoring At Southampton.

London, June 21.

In four innings at Southampton in the match between Leicester and Hampshire only 390 runs were scored, the home county gaining victory by three wickets in spite of a fine bowling performance by Geary, the Leicester all-rounder, who took in all fourteen wickets out of the seventeen which fell, at an aggregate cost of 86 runs.

Seven Hampshire wickets fell in the second innings before victory was assured, and in each case was Geary the successful bowler.

The scores were:

Leicester: 89 and 105.

Hampshire: 93 and 103 (for 7 wickets).

Newman took six Leicester wickets at a cost 5.5 runs apiece in the first innings, while Kennedy was the most successful bowler in their second innings, his four wickets being secured for 26 runs.

Geary dismissed seven batsmen in the Hants first innings for 42 runs, and he took all seven in the second for 44.—Reuter.

PING-PONG MATCH.

The following will represent the University at a ping-pong match against C. R. C. on Thursday, 24th inst. at 8 p.m. in Eliot Hall, University.—Messrs. A. A. Rumjahn, T. W. Chong, W. M. Cheung, C. P. Cheh and B. P. Ng."

WIMBLEDON OPENS.

NOTABLE FIRST ROUND RESULTS.

London, June 21.

The Wimbledon lawn tennis championship meeting opened in fine weather.

There was a crowded attendance, with a jubilee celebration in the form of a Royal pageant, in which H. M. the King presented commemorative medals to ex-champions of lawn tennis from the eighties to last year.

Despite the absence of Miss Helen Wills and Lacoste, the international element was strongly represented.

The meeting is noteworthy for the first appearance of a Royal entrant, in the person of the Duke of York.—Reuter.

Notable Results.

London, June 21.

The most notable of the first round results involved victories for Jean Borotra, Howard Kinsey, O. G. N. Turnbull and Vincent Richards.

Jean Borotra (France) defeated L. A. Godfree (Britain) 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

Howard Kinsey (America) defeated C. Dixon (Britain) 6-2, 6-1.—Reuter.

SPORTING PARS.

Sidwell's Benefit.

T. E. Sidwell, the Leicestershire wicket-keeper will receive a well-deserved benefit during this season, and has chosen the match with Notts, which commences at Leicester on June 23. Sidwell has been playing for the Midland county since 1913, and in recent seasons he has done splendid work. Since 1920 he has helped to dismiss 289 batsmen, his best season being in 1921, when he had 70 victims.

The Perfect Batsman.

"I have never yet seen, and never expect to see, Hobbs play a bad innings on any wicket . . . He is the youngest batsman for his age I have ever seen." Thus A. C. McLaren in his latest book ("The Perfect Batsman," Cassell and Co., 3s. 6d.), which is written round a series of cinema photographs of Hobbs in action.

Batsman's Motor "Drive."

One of the principal features of the programme was the excellent selections by the band of the 1st Bn. East Surrey Regiment. They played "Entry of the Gladiators" (Blankenburg), "The Sicilian Vespers" (Verdi), "The Musical Switch" (Alford), "La Bohème" (Puccini), and "Three Blind Mice" (Lotter), together with two fully deserved encores.

Mrs. Jenner contributed several pleasing monologues, while Mr. H. Gardner was warmly applauded for a number of well rendered songs. These included "I pitch my lonely caravan at night," and "An Interlude."

Mrs. Lewis Davis sang "A Birthday," and was also heard to great advantage with Mr. Gardner in two pleasing duets. Mr. Hill's violin solos were also very much appreciated. His items included "Un Sonnet d'Amour" (Coleridge Taylor) and "Demande et Repose." L. Cpl. W. G. Wernham was warmly applauded for "Maire, my Girl" (Ward Stephen), and contributed a popular encore.

The whole programme was well arranged and thoroughly enjoyable.

Some Sport Speeds.

The big hitting which has characterised the opening innings of the Australian team makes interesting a comparison of some of the speeds attained in our ball games. A really fast bowler can hurl the ball along at something like 88 feet a second, whilst in a lusty drive the ball leaves the bat at close on 120 feet in the same time. Scarcely less is the speed at which a good fielder can make a return. Curiously enough this same speed is also achieved in a fast tennis serve, but probably double the pace, or 250 feet per second, is necessary in a really good drive at golf; just about the same as that reached in the recent motor record breaking by Thomas and Major Segrave.

FORTUNATE ESCAPE.

Subsequently the agent of a Chinese official bribed Dr.
Thompson to the Belgian Roman Catholic Mission at Ta Moor.

The priest there endeavoured to negotiate for his release and their demands were for 1,000 rifles, four machine guns, $400,000, and admission to the army.

GIFT FROM SHANGHAI CATHOLICS.

Chicago, June 21.

Cardinal Bonzano celebrated the Pontifical Mass in a vestment set of handmade silk ceremonial presented to the Eucharistic Congress by the Chinese delegation as the gift from a group of Shanghai women and children.—Reuter's Americian Service.

PERILOUS TRIP.

General had dismounted and wa-lying on the ground.

After tending him at the roadside for two hours, the General appeared easier and he was able to remount his pony, and continue till a river was reached. This had to be crossed by means of a coracle ferry and much delay was experienced. The General was placed in an improvised stretcher but neither passers-by nor the yak-drivers would carry it.

DEATH OF GEN. PEREIRA.

Very reluctantly, Dr. Thompson had to help General Pereira on to his pony, and the party slowly wended its way into Kanze. The relief however came too late, and he died in the early hours of the following morning. Sixteen Tibetans carried the coffin to the grave, and General Pereira was buried in the shadow of a great Tibetan Lamasery at Kanze in view of the snow-covered mountains which border the river.

With the road behind impasseable and the road ahead difficult and long, Dr. Thompson was aided by a traveller who had just passed through the treacherous Golok country and had discovered that the proper route was blocked by fierce fighting between the Goloks and Seta nomads.

The Goloks, the most dangerous
of all the Tibetan tribes, laid an ambush for the party in a valley, but four friendly tribesmen gaming warning and the party turned south, and passed the robber camp
in the night without discovery.

ERIE COUNTRY.

Not a soul was seen for days, said Dr. Thompson, yet all the while it was impossible to rid themselves of the impression that they were being watched. Three days later they saw two Golok tribesmen over a hill-crest and rapidly disappear when the party was sighted.

The Goloks, the most dangerous
of all the Tibetan tribes, laid an ambush for the party in a valley, but four friendly tribesmen gaming warning and the party turned
south, and passed the robber camp
in the night without discovery.

Mr. Underwood admitted to-day that it will be necessary to reduce the size of this keyboard by a decrease of characters. Consultation with Chinese language students will be held to assure that the reduction is properly done.

The standard American typewriter has about eighty-four characters. The machine made for foreign languages carry ninety-two characters. Typewriters with Japanese, Hebrew and Indian characters have been manufactured at the Underwood plant. The Hebrew machine, which was devised eight years ago, was constructed with a reserve carriage. There has been a lively demand for this from Egypt, Turkey, New York, Boston and Palestine."

wood Typewriter Co. in Hongkong and China are Messrs. Dodwell
